Finding your Way

- 1 From Leisure Centre car park go up the ramp. Cross road, beware fast moving traffic. Walk up Insole terrace on your left. Cross cobbled lane and on through gate. At the seat continue on level path. Continue on until you join a track way that descends to the main road. At bottom of slope follow old road for 50 metres before turning left to cross busy dual carriageway. Take (left) gravel path around hospital, cross bridge over river and on to crossing path with large high wall in front of you.
- 2 Turn sharp left and follow old railway line until you cross the Ely river. Turn right and descend carefully to river and follow path through woodland by river. Continue between houses and walk through estate to the main road. (Please note that the above paths are not currently public rights of way.) Take public footpath opposite (cross road on nearby Zebra crossing) and continue by side of river, under road and railway bridges, past factory and houses until the path climbs to a road bridge over the river. Turn left to reach busy main road
- 3 Take path opposite (cross road via Pelican crossing) through kissing gate along side the Afon Clun and straight across fields. Cross stile on left immediately after passing under dual carriageway. Continue to road..

On the Way

- ◆ The River Ely runs from its source a mile to the North of Tonyrefail down to Penarth. It now empties into Cardiff Bay.
- ◆ The Hospital is built on Ynys Y Plwm, the meadow of lead, which was the home of the Thomas/Cozens family who owned the greater part of the valley from Talbot Green to Tonyrefail.
- ◆ Ynys Maerdy – The remains of the mine on Ynys Maerdy farm can still be seen. Sunk between 1922 and 1926 it was never a success and closed following an explosion, which occurred on 2nd June 1941.
- ◆ The Afon Clun has been cleaned over the past few years. It used to carry waste from Beddau coking works. However fish and kingfishers now frequent the stream.
